ROTARY CLUB LAUDS RIEGLE FOR ABILITY

H. Edgar Riegler, Gettysburg's superintendent of schools, addressed the Rotary Club at its meeting Monday evening on the operation of the club's student loan fund and some related subjects concerning education. During the questioning the program developed commendation for Riegler's ability as an educator and administrator.

Riegler told the club of the establishment of the Rotary scholarship fund which up to the present time had loaned $2,600 to six students. Under the rules only one-fourth of the funds may be loaned to Freshmen and Sophomores at any time. With the anticipated graduation of its first recipient this year, the program will become a revolving fund. The graduating students will repay the money they had borrowed. Riegler said only half the $5,200 in the fund has been loaned so far, in order to have funds on hand to provide loans to students until repayments begin to come in.

BEAR NO INTEREST

The loans bear no interest until the student completes his education or leaves college after which a two per cent rate is assessed. The loans must be repaid within five years after completion of education.

Money for the scholarship fund was provided by the will of the late Charles L. Eicholtz, a member of the local Rotary Club for many years.

Riegler said that a survey of 875 high ranking high school seniors in a midwestern state who had not continued their education disclosed that 80 per cent said they had not even talked about college with their parents or teachers. Riegler said, "This could not be true at Gettysburg High School. Miss N. Louise Ramer, our guidance counselor, schedules meetings with all students to discuss their future plans."

"FINE" COUNSELOR

He added that Miss Ramer is "one of the finest guidance counselors, who does a tremendous job of seeking out scholarships."

SCHOOL BOARD AT FAIRFIELD OKAYS BUDGET

The Fairfield Joint School Board Monday night unanimously adopted a $252,746 budget for the coming year. The budget does not include approximately $30,000 in rentals.

Income for the jointure will include $142,248 from Hamiltonian Twp., $57,120 from Liberty Twp. and $40,632 from Fairfield. Miscellaneous income will total $12,746, of which $5,000 is paid by the federal government under a program reimbursing school boards for children of parents who are federally employed.

In connection with the budget, a review of the kindergarten program was presented by Supervising Principal George Inskip showing that youngsters who attend kindergarten have a better record in subject and social development when they advance to First Grade as compared with those who did not attend the kindergarten. In addition, his report showed that the Fairfield school's kindergarten is "making money" for the school system. Because of it, the state has increased reimbursements generally. As a result the school system is receiving $2,000 above the cost of the kindergarten which it would not otherwise receive.

RESIGNATIONS

Discussion of the supplemental payments made by the state in connection with the meeting of certain standards led the board to decide to increase the clerical help in the administrative offices to meet state recommendations.

Plans were announced to close the school Thursday afternoon and open Tuesday morning for the Easter vacation.

The board accepted resignation of Gino Propogio as industrial arts teacher, and Mrs. Betty Bishop, Sixth Grade teacher, both effective with the end of the school year. At the same time the board elected Gary Bechtel, who had taught industrial arts for 5 1/2 years at the school, but who resigned last year to accept a post in California, as replacement for Propogio. Bechtel plans to return to Fairfield.

MORE NAMES FOR COUNTY'S HALL OF FAME

After completing his list of nominees for an "Adams County Hall of Fame" Monday evening in his second talk on the subject before the Gettysburg Lions Club, J. M. Sheads, American history teacher at Gettysburg High School, suggested another topic for an interesting talk would be the "off beat" characters of the community in the last century or two.

His nominations for the "Hall of Fame" ranged over more than two centuries from Mary Jemison, the famed "white squaw," to the late C. H. Musselman, whom he identified as possibly the county's greatest philanthropist and a fruit processing pioneer.

Mr. Sheads, who had nominated 15 men and women last week, added 19 names to the list Monday evening, admitted the list may not be complete in the eyes of some and reported that since his talk last week he had received another nomination in the mail.

PROPOSES MEMORIAL

The nominees Mr. Sheads listed Monday were proposed in this order:

Dr. Samuel S. Schmucker, first president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary, a position he held for 40 years.

Herman Haupt, whom he identified as Lincoln's favorite engineer and railroad man. Haupt's book on bridge building remains a classic, Sheads said. The speaker proposed that the Lions erect a memorial to Haupt in connection with the Civil War centennial. Haupt was in charge of rail transportation during and after the battle of Gettysburg. He was briefly on the Gettysburg College faculty.

Miss Mary McClellan, one of the best teachers Gettysburg ever had. She taught from 1861 to 1888, mostly in a private school.

KENDLEHART SAVED TOWN

Martin Winter, a worthy successor to James Gettys and Alexander Dobbin as a real estate developer. His role in the development of the Broadway section was specially noted.

David Kendlehart, courageous president of the Gettysburg town council when Gen. Early made his exorbitant demands here at the time of the battle. His diplomatic handling of the Confederates' demand may have saved the town from the torch, Sheads said.

NEW POSTAL ROUTE OPENS

A permanent mounted-type postal delivery route has been established for residents of Twin Oaks. Postmaster Charles W. Pentz announced today. The route formerly had been an auxiliary delivery route.

The new route also will give mail service to the residents in the eastern section of Gettysburg along E. Railroad St., Pentz said. Areas north of Stevens St. will also be covered by the new delivery.

Paul Grube, who recently was made a permanent carrier, will carry the new route until minor adjustments and resignments are made, Pentz said.

Pentz also said that all city mailmen leave the postoffice at 10:30 o'clock each morning for deliveries, with the exception of those in the business district. The latter has two deliveries, one at 9:30 a.m. and the other at 10:30 a.m. each morning.

Kiwanians Meet Here On Monday

The Kiwanis Club held its weekly meeting Monday evening at the Lamp Post Tea Room with four members of the Taneytown Club, Howell B. Royer, D. Leonard Reifsnider, Oliver Leakes and Ford Waggoner, who was the speaker of the evening, as guests. Mr. Waggoner chose as his topic "We Build," a Kiwanis slogan.

Harold Kauffman, manager of the Edgewood Bowling Lanes, was inducted as a new member of the club by James Myers, chairman of the education and fellowship committee.

Donald Bickel, manager of the Big Little League, sponsored by the club, was a guest, as well as Robert G. Zeigler, director of instrumental music at the Gettysburg High School.

Arrangements are being made by the club to visit station WGAL-TV at Lancaster May 14. The meeting was in charge of President Roy Thomas.

2 SCHOOLMEN NAB THIEVES AFTER CHASE

Two juvenile car thieves from Harrisburg were apprehended by Bermudian Springs school authorities Monday and held for police after the two youths, one 12 and one 15, allegedly stole a car in Hummelstown, struck a parked car in York Springs, almost hit a carload of teachers at Bermudian Springs High School and collided with a safety island there.

The incident occurred at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning.

State police said the two stole a car owned by John Shunk, Hummelstown, and then drove to York Springs. There the vehicle struck a car owned by Jack Starry, York Springs R. 2, causing $100 damage to that auto while it was parked near the York Springs post office. The two boys continued on south on the York Springs-Hanover Rd.

FLEE ON FOOT

At the Bermudian Springs High School entrance the car almost struck the auto full of teachers and collided with the traffic island. By this time damage to the stolen car amounted to $400, and the two youths abandoned the vehicle.

They ran south on the Hanover-York Springs Rd. followed by Supervising Principal Amos D. Meyers on foot, but the boys outdistanced the principal.

Alfred R. Billett, the high school principal, drove his car down a side road. He then picked up the boys who by this time were hitchhiking. He took them to the school, also picking up the running supervising principal, where they were held by the school officials until the officers arrived. The youths were turned over eventually to Dauphin County probation officers.

$1,600 Crash Near Hampton Monday

Damage totaled $1,600 when two autos collided at 11:30 o'clock Monday night at the intersection of the Heidlersburg-East Berlin and Hanover-York Springs Rds., near Hampton.

State police said Stanley A. Starner, 40, Gardeners R. 2, was driving west on the Heidlersburg-East Berlin Rd. and Robert C. Young, 25, Hanover, was traveling south on the Hanover-Carlisle pike when the two vehicles collided in the intersection.

Young suffered a dislocation of the right shoulder and abrasions about the body. He was removed to the Hanover Hospital in the New Oxford ambulance. Damage was estimated at $400 to Starner's car and $1,200 to Young's sedan.

16 Refugees Crash Fences In Bus And Win Asylum In Brazil's Embassy In Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Sixteen refugees from Fidel Castro's regime won asylum in the Brazilian Embassy Monday after a city bus driver had smashed his vehicle through two metal fences surrounding the building.

Cuban guards posted around the embassy were too surprised to open fire.

The driver rammed the 35-foot bus through an iron fence at the end of the embassy garden, then tore through a strong steel fence 10 feet beyond.

The passengers, including several women and children, and the driver dashed into a building on the grounds where more than 200 refugees are lodged.

The noise of the crash brought scores of neighbors flocking to the scene.

SAY MONOCACY DAM GOING TO FLOOD FARMS

The Monocacy River dam proposed as one of a number designed to provide sufficient water for the anticipated population of the Potomac River Basin by the year 2,000 will inundate at least two farm homes in Adams County, near the confluence of Marsh and Rock Creeks, and will probably put parts of Emmitsburg and St. Joseph College campus under water.

A map issued in connection with a meeting to be held by the Frederick County Planning and Zoning Commission Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the North at Frederick shows the proposed dam will be located about five miles south of Emmitsburg in the Six Bridge area.

As prepared by the U. C. Corps of engineers, based on the height of the ground above sea level the map shows two levels for the water basin behind the dam. One is listed as a "conservation pool" at 375 feet mean sea level. The other is maximum water surface listed as 388 feet mean sea level.

WOULD FLOOD CAMPUS

The conservation pool level would fill up and spread over Tom's Creek near Emmitsburg; if the level reaches the 388-foot mark, based on sea level, then the eastern portion of Emmitsburg would be flooded up to Creamery Rd. The water would also cross Creamery Rd. east of St. Joseph College and fill the lower lying southern portions of the college campus, crossing Route 15.

The dam would produce a lake approximately a mile across in the Six Bridge area. Tom's Creek would be approximately a half mile across where Crimes Rd. crosses the stream. Parts of the Keysville Rd. and Four Points would be under water where they now meet.

TELLS WOMEN OF DUTIES IN TOWN OFFICE

As part of a series of instructional talks on the work of the borough, Harry D. Ridinger, borough treasurer, gave an account of the work involved in his department at the monthly meeting of the Women's Civic Council at the American Legion Monday evening.

He explained that the borough government was set up in 1781 under the statutes of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The treasurer is appointed by town council and is under a surety bond of $10,000. He has no vote at council meetings. He is responsible for receiving all moneys, depositing them in the name of the borough and must report at least once a year to the comptroller or auditors. His books are open to public inspection at all times, he said.

He said the borough operated on a budget of $356,000 in 1961 and exceeded its budget by only $200. Eighteen thousand dollars to $20,000 is received each year from the state highway aid fund for maintenance of town streets.

INCOME, REVENUE

Ridinger explained the various items set up on the debit side of the budget: General government, protection to persons and property, highway, recreation, light, health sanitation and board of health and miscellaneous. Income is received from taxes at the rate of 16 mills ($87,369 collected in (Continued On Page 2)

First Grader Led Robberies

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Police arrested a first-grader Monday and said he told of leading nine friends in a half dozen robberies.

School Principal Finis Tatum called police after hearing that several youngsters were passing out greenbacks.

Patrolmen rounded up the 7-year-old, two boys of 9, a pair of 10-year-olds, one of 14 and another 15.

All are Negroes.

The youngest told of stealing $144 from a supermarket till, $35 and $75 at gas stations and handfuls of money in three other stores.

Detectives said the youngsters went on a spree at the state fair and gave most of what was left to playmates. They sent the boys to a juvenile home.

8 GIRL SCOUTS SELECTED FOR SUMMER CAMP

Eight Adams County Girl Scouts are scheduled to attend the 1962 Girl Scout Senior Roundup at Lake Champlain, Vt., July 17 as part of the 50th anniversary of the founding of the organization, it was announced today by the Penn-Laurel Girl Scout Council, York.

They are the Misses Carol M. Houck, Arendtsville; Sally A. Wolfe, New Oxford; Sara D. Moore, Gettysburg R. 1; Jane A. Toomey, Gettysburg R. 6; Beverly A. Phil, Gettysburg R. 3; Betty L. Hostetter, Gettysburg R. 2; Linda Louise Bream, Gettysburg R. 4, and Irene A. Glenn, 549 Carlisle St. The alternates are Miss Betsy Hull, 37 N. Howard St., and Miss Carolyn Kump, Littlestown R. 2.

The 72 Scouts from the Penn-Laurel area will make the trip by bus. Mrs. Louise Sipe, of Green-castle, and Mrs. Creston Lockbaum will be the trip directors.

10,000 TO ATTEND

The local group will be part of the 10,000 Scouts, ages 14-17, from the 50 states who are expected to attend, along with 200 Girl Guide Rangers from approximately 20 foreign countries.

The Scouts will erect a city of 6,000 multi-colored tents in the 250-acre Button Bay State Park and in so doing, will establish temporarily the sixth largest city in Vermont.

While at the camp the girls will undertake a conservation project by planting trees in the undeveloped park, participate in an art exhibit and an on-the-spot photography contests.

The role of women in the future will be discussed in the four human relations in world affairs. The girls will also engage in arts and crafts, meteorology and news reporting, and other related areas.

DILWORTH TO VISIT HERE

Richardson Dilworth, former mayor of Philadelphia, and candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Pennsylvania, will come to Gettysburg next Tuesday for lunch, a news conference, a visit to Gettysburg College, and a tour through the county. Fred G. Klunk, chairman of the Adams County Democratic Committee, said today.

"The organization candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor said he is anxious to visit historic Gettysburg and the fruit belt of the county," Klunk said.

"When arrangements were being made Dilworth asked that a news conference for press and radio representatives be made available immediately after lunch at the Hotel Gettysburg to which have been invited those interested. It will be set up for the convenience of the news media, which also includes photographers. It will be held sometime between 1:30 and 2 o'clock," Klunk added.

After the conference Dilworth will visit Gettysburg College and as many communities in the county as time will permit before he goes to Harrisburg for another meeting.

STOCKS UNEVEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels made a cautious recovery as the stock market moved unevenly higher early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .80 at 252.00 with industrials up 1.10, rails up .60 and utilities up .30.

Movements of fractions to a point among key stocks were generally on the upside although quite a number of stocks in various groups showed no change.

School Board Adds 5 Pct. Occupation Tax; Keep Levy Of 50 Mills On Real Estate

APPOINT NEW DIRECTOR TO SCHOOL BOARD

A few minutes before the Gettysburg Area School Board filled a vacancy in its membership by appointing the first woman school director from Freedom Twp., the resignation of another of its members was read and accepted.

Filling a vacancy caused by the resignation a month ago of Addison R. Durborow, the board appointed Mrs. Eleanor P. Cunningham, Gettysburg R. 2, to serve the unexpired term of Mr. Durborow which ends next year.

Mrs. Cunningham was called into the board meeting and was given her oath of office by the board secretary, Orville B. Orner, and took part in the board's deliberations on budget and tax rates.

BOWERSOX RESIGNS

Earlier in the meeting a letter of resignation was read from Frank L. Bowersox Jr., Gettysburg R. 2, who said he was resigning because his work takes him out of the community and he is unable to attend board meetings. The board will make an appointment later to serve out the Bowersox term which runs until 1965.

Durborow's resignation came just before he moved to Virginia. Mrs. Cunningham, who is the proprietor of the Gift and Goody Shop on Carlisle St., is the mother of five. Her youngest daughter is a student at Delone Catholic High School. The others are beyond public school age. The new director said this is her first experience as a member of a school board.

MORE CANCER DRIVE TEAMS ARE LISTED

Another list of Cancer Crusade solicitors including a number of suburban Gettysburg workers was announced today by the Crusade cochairmen, Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler and Richard Shultz.

SEEKS DIVORCE

Doris E. (Wiseman) Yingling, 108 Cemetery St., Littlestown, is seeking a divorce from Charles E. Yingling, 67 W. Myrtle St., Littlestown, according to papers filed in the prothonotary's office for Mrs. Yingling by Attorney Ronald J. Hagerman. The couple married June 7, 1953, in Littlestown. Indignities are charged.

PLAN PRAYER SERVICE

There will be a prayer meeting at the Mt. Hope EUB Church Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock and a film strip on "The Passion Play" will be shown afterwards, it was announced by the pastor, the Rev. Alfred Gotwalt.

APPOINT NEW DIRECTOR TO SCHOOL BOARD

Members of the Gettysburg Area School board at a special meeting Monday evening voted to inaugurate an occupation tax in Gettysburg borough and Freedom Twp. rather than increase the real estate millage to raise extra school funds needed next year.

The directors gave tentative approval to a $610,688 budget which is approximately $75,000 above that for last year, voted to advertise the budget and set May 14 as the time for final action on the budget and tax rates.

The board proposes to meet the budget by continuing the present 50-mill levy on real estate in Gettysburg and Freedom Twp., continuing the per capita taxes which total $12.50 per person and continue the one per cent tax on real estate transfers — in addition to the new occupation levy.

SUGGESTS COMPROMISE

A five-mill jump in the real estate tax would have produced the same amount of revenue as the new occupation tax, it was pointed out by Superintendent H. Edgar Riegler who had prepared figures on which the directors could base their choice.

Director Robert W. Weaner suggested a compromise between the two plans by which the same amount of revenue would have been secured by placed a three per cent tax on occupations in addition to a two-mill boost in the real estate levy.

But when the matter came to a vote it was on a motion to adopt the five per cent occupation levy. The motion carried 7 to 3 on a roll call vote with Directors Weaner, Deardorff and Orner voting "no."

LIKE "BROADER BASE"

Directors who supported the occupation levy said they favored it because it spread the school costs over a broader base than would be the case if the money were raised by boosting the levy on real estate.

The new tax money for the 1962-63 school year was needed chiefly because the district's commitments to the joint school treasury will increase by more than $67,000. The joint school budget, tentatively approved a week ago, is up about $150,000 over the current year. The budget for local district expenses in Gettysburg and Freedom is up about $8,500, (Continued On Page 3)

NATIONAL WAX MUSEUM OPENS OVER WEEKEND

The National Civil War Wax Museum, the newest tourist attraction in Gettysburg, opened its exhibit area at an "invitation" preview over the weekend that attracted more than 1,900 persons.

On Monday, today and Wednesday the museum is open to the local public and the general public showing begins Thursday.

The new attraction is an audio-visual presentation of the Civil War, its causes and effects which includes more than 150 figures in 34 tableaux spaced at regular intervals along a corridor approximately 500 feet long. Some of the exhibits are 20 feet wide. The smallest is that of Jennie Wade, the only Gettysburg civilian killed in battle. She is shown kneading bread in a display approximately six feet wide.

LINCOLN'S ADDRESS

The museum literature states that it "portrays in life-size figures and tableaux the tragedies and triumphs of this crucial conflict."

Among the displays are: John Brown, about to be hanged; Clara Barton at Antietam; Barbara Fritchie; Firing on Fort Sumter; the Lincoln-Douglas debates; the assassination of Abraham Lincoln; Lincoln's Gettysburg Address which climaxes the exhibition at the closing of the tableaux in the Battle Room when a narrator recites the Address. Re-enactment of this tableau requires 12 minutes. Another display shows Union officers conferring in winter quarters, a southern plantation, (Continued On Page 3)

New Voting Place For Third Ward

The county commissioners announced Monday that the new Third Ward voting place will be the showroom of the H. and H. Machine Shop, S. Washington St.

Previously the Third Ward residents voted in a portion of the courthouse now being turned into a vault.

The new location will be used for the first time on May 15 at the primary election.

LEAD PIPE AND SHOTS LEAD TO HOSPITAL, JAIL

Russell Leroy Rowles, 23, Perulack, Pa., and John Samuel Burdge, 26, Orrtanna R. 1, were in the Adams County jail today charged with disorderly conduct by state police before Justice of the Peace Clarence Fritz, McKnightstown.

Police said the charges were brought as a result of a fracas at Burdge's home at "Pine Haven," on the east slope of Mt. Newman, about 8:30 o'clock Friday night.

Details, according to the officers, were somewhat confused and the investigation was continuing today.

Burdge, at some point in the proceedings, according to the officers, was "walloped on the back of the head with a lead pipe." The local ambulance was summoned to remove Burdge to the Warner Hospital where he recovered consciousness, was treated and removed by police to the justice's office and then to jail.

Police explained that the disorderly conduct charges came because some of the events occurred outside the cabin and thus "disturbing the public peace." At least one resident of the area who went to quiet the situation also was struck by a lead pipe, according to reports from the scene.

Someone, police said, fired several shots, but police said they had not yet determined who fired the shots. They said no one was hit by the shots.

According to the officers, Perulack was visiting Burdge. Police said they understood the wife of an out-of-county man was also visiting. Her husband was a later visitor, according to the officers.

MAKES GOOD 2 BAD CHECKS

James A. Connors, with two given addresses, P. O. Box 163, Carlisle, and Carlisle R. 6, charged with passing two bogus checks totaling $23.60, made restitution and paid the costs of $9.50 before Justice of the Peace John Whitman at a recent hearing.

Julius Swope swore out a warrant charging Connors with cashing a check for $10.60 at his Steinwehr Ave. service station, and with paying for gasoline at Swope's Carlisle St. station with a check in the amount of $13. Both checks were returned marked insufficient funds.

Whitman sent a registered letter to Connors at his P. O. box address notifying him of the warrant. The letter was returned unclaimed. Whitman sent a second letter to Connors' wife at the R. 6 address which also was returned unclaimed. The warrants were then sent to state police to serve.

Connors was apprehended by state police and taken before Whitman where he made restitution, paid the costs and the charges were dismissed.

Drill Team Will March In 5 Parades

Plans for the drill team of the Fairfield Post No. 172 of the Amvets to take part in five parades and special ceremonies in the next few months were made at a drill team meeting which was held Monday evening at the post home.

The list of appearances will include the Fairfield memorial services on May 27; the Fountaindale memorial services on May 30 and the New Oxford memorial services on the same day, the Taneytown Volunteer Fire Company carnival parade on June 15 and the Gettysburg firemen's parade on July 4.

It was also announced Monday that an Easter egg hunt will be sponsored by the Amvets and their auxiliary on Saturday, starting at 1 p.m. for the children of the Fairfield area. Peizes will be awarded.

President Kenneth Weikert presided at the meeting with 23 members present. It was announced that at the next post meeting there will be a drawing for a state Amvets life membership awarded to the Fairfield post.

According to an article in the Ithaca Journal, Mrs. Carl Arnold Hanson, wife of the president of Gettysburg College, was awarded the Order of the Yellow Tulip by the parents' committee of the children's ward of Tompkins County Hospital, Ithaca, N. Y. Mrs. Hanson, it stated, had served as membership chairman, had done volunteer service as a "play lady" and had assisted in many other activities of that organization which for many years has been devoted to service for the children patients in the hospital.

The Order of the Yellow Tulip is a recognition reserved for those volunteers who have given outstanding service. The Hansons are former residents of Ithaca. Since coming to Gettysburg Mrs. Hanson has included active work with the Y-Teens in her civic service.

A combined meeting of the Mary Magdalene Circle and the Dorcas Circle of St. James Lutheran Church was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Richard Waybright with 12 persons present. Mrs. Waybright conducted the devotion and the program on "The Well Read Woman." Plans were made to hold a covered dish supper with the Esther Circle May 21 at 6:30 p.m. in the church dining room.

The Music Study Group of the AAUW will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Harold Glad, Twin Oaks. The program will be on the music of Berlioz and will be presented by Mrs. A. B. Boenau.

The Acorn Club will meet Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock with Mrs. John W. Hewitt, 58 W. Water St.

The VFW Auxiliary will meet Wednesday evening, starting with a covered dish supper at 6:30 o'clock at the post home. Officers will be installed at 8 o'clock.

The name of Valorie Slusser was inadvertently omitted from the list of bowlers of the Mt. Hope Youth Fellowship at the Upper Adams Lanes Saturday afternoon. She was one of the high scorers.

1961; mayor's account, building permits, fines, parking tickets, licenses, etc. ($34,516 in 1961); justices of the peace, fines, etc. (less than $1,000); amusement tax from movies, museums, etc. ($8,580 in 1961). The balance in the treasury at the end of 1961 was $76,429.09, plus $25,000 invested in U.S. Treasury bills. All checks are signed by the president, secretary and treasurer of council. A finance committee of three is set up by council to handle all money matters.

Mrs. Robert C. Harpster, president, presided at the meeting with 14 women's organizations represented. Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler was appointed to represent the council on the town's Halloween program committee.

Following the meeting the executive board set up a program for the summer months when no business meetings are held. The women will pay visits to several local points of interest and picnics and suppers are planned for their entertainment.

1,000 To Hear About Careers

Approximately 1,000 Sophomores and Juniors from Adams County's public high schools will assemble on the Gettysburg College campus Wednesday afternoon for the 18th annual career conference sponsored by the Adams County Schoolmen's Association.

The students will be assigned to 53 occupational groups to hear speakers on 43 occupations and professions from 1 to 2:40 p.m. A teacher has been assigned as chairman for each group to introduce the speakers and to prepare attendance and other reports to the schoolmen's group on the results of the conference.

The occupations in which speakers have been scheduled cover a wide field ranging from dairy farming and airline hostess through teaching and the other professions to beauty culture, homemaking and truck driving. After the conference, teacher chairmen and speakers will gather in the Student Union lounge at 2:40 o'clock for a tea.

MORE NAMES

1,200 pounds of sugar, 600 pounds of coffee, 1,000 pounds of salt, bushels of onions, 1,000 pairs of shoes and 500 hats or $10,000 in gold. Kendeheart told Early that Gettysburg could not meet those demands but that storekeepers would give them what they could. "Quantities of goods were then liberated, all of the whiskey first," Sheds said.

David McConaughy, Lincoln Secret Service agent here and one of the founders of the Gettysburg Battlefield Memorial Association.

EARLY SETTLERS, HISTORIAN

Mary Jemison, only countian to whom two statues have been erected, one in Buchanan Valley and the other in Letchfield State Park, N. Y.

Andrew Schreiber, who in 1730 became the first permanent white settler in what is now Adams County.

John Hanson Steelman, early Indian trader in this area and Penn agent who stayed out of Maryland to avoid creditors.

J. Howard Wert, best local historian whose "Old Time Notes" are a treasury of county history.

CIVIL WAR GENERAL

Dr. M. D. G. Pfeiffer, who established the New Oxford Medical Institute and who was identified as a scholar and friend of liberal education.

Gen. William Wierman Wright, Civil War general from this county who was an engineer officer with Sherman on his march to the sea and who helped survey the Panama Canal route for the French.

Col. Hance Hamilton, frontiersman and first sheriff of Adams County at the age of 28.

Dr. Samuel Agnew, who wrote a historic paper on vaccination in the early 19th century.

BROTHERS ON LIST

James McAllister, leading abolitionist and "underground railroad" operator.

Noah and Aaron Sheely, brothers. Aaron was described as a pioneer educator in Adams County and once its superintendent of schools and operator of a teacher training institute. Noah was a pioneer fruitgrower with 2,000 apple trees in 1886 and who sent first Adams County apples to the Chicago world's fair.

C. H. Musselman concluded the list.

CANDIDATE TALKS

The nominee Mr. Sheds received by mail was the name of Dr. Edwin J. Breidenbaugh, for 40 years a chemistry professor at Gettysburg College and the man for whom Breidenbaugh Science Hall was named.

In connection with his reference to the "off beat" characters in the county's past, he read a newspaper account of "Johnny Maloney" who died in the county home two decades or more ago after being one of the town's more colorful characters for many years.

President David Bloser presided at the club meeting with more than 50 in attendance. Kenneth G. Reinhardt Jr. introduced the speaker.

Earl Good, a member of the Kreutz Creek Lions Club in York County and candidate for district governor at the state convention in Scranton in May, spoke briefly. He was introduced by International Councillor Carroll Doll. Another Kreutz Creek Club guest was Carl Barley.

The Rev. Edgar D. Ziegler, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Hanover, officiated. Interment was in Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Littlestown. Pallbearers were Lester Strevig, Wilbur Smith, Roscoe Worley, Edgar Worley, Edward Krichten and Russell Markle.

GET FUND FOR SEWER PLANS

The Communities Facilities Administration at Washington on Monday approved a $4,500 advance for preliminary planning of a sanitary sewage system in Cumberland Twp. at Grandview Terrace, according to a telegram received by The Gettysburg Times from U. S. Senator Joseph S. Clark.

The message from Washington stated that when completed the project will be capable of serving approximately 600 people in the Grandview Terrace area. This is an interest-free advance repayable upon the state of construction, the telegram stated.

Cumberland Twp. supervisors have been working with Grandview Terrace folk on discussions of plans for the sewage system and the Gettysburg Municipal Authority has been consulted. The State Department of Health also has shown an interest in the need for a sewage system there.

Supervisors said the application for the federal funds had been handled by their consulting engineer, William E. Sees Jr., Harrisburg.

The Washington telegram said it is estimated that construction will start next January but local officials involved in the problem were not certain that the project had yet advanced far enough to fix a starting date.

DEATHS

George E. Wagner

George E. Wagner, 76, died Sunday at his home, 1432 Derry St., Harrisburg.

Born and reared in Hunters-town, Mr. Wagner moved to Harrisburg as a young man. He was a former store attendant for the Pennsylvania Railroad, retiring from that position in 1951. Later he was employed by the state Department of Labor and Industry and retired from that post in 1957.

He was a member of the Golden Age Club, Penbrook, and Camp 252, Modern Woodmen.

Among survivors are two brothers, Arthur W., of Harrisburg, and Oros L., of Selma, Calif., and a sister, Mrs. Margaret E. Heiges, of Avalon, Allegheny County.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at the funeral home at 32nd and Brisan Sts., Pastang, with the Rev. James E. Morecraft, pastor of Memorial Evangelical Lutheran Church, officiating. Burial will be in Greenmont Cemetery, Arendtsville. Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday after 7 p.m.

Virgil E. Cain

Virgil Elmo Cain, 53, died unexpectedly at his home near New Windsor, Md., Sunday at 10 a.m. Death was attributed to a heart condition.

He was born in Polo, Ill., a son of the late William and Mattie Diehl Cain. He was a veteran of World War II, serving in the Air Corps with the 714th Flexible Gun-nery Squadron.

Among the survivors are a son, Russell, Taneytown.

Funeral services will be held at the New Windsor Funeral Home of D. D. Hartzler and sons Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. Rev. Maurice Strausbaugh will officiate. Burial will be in Pipe Creek Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening.

Mrs. John Washington

Mrs. Ruth Washington, 74, New York City, formerly of Gettysburg, died Monday at 1 p.m. in the Montefiore Hospital, N. Y. She was a native of Waynesboro and was a daughter of the late Isaac and Harriet (Compton) Snowden. Her husband, John (Greenie) Washington, died in 1923.

Surviving are these children: Jesse, Baltimore; Lloyd, Gettysburg; William, Washington, D. C.; Norman and Mrs. Mae Anna Townsend, both of Gettysburg; George, New York City, and Mrs. Catherine Payne, New York City. There is a brother, Arthur Snowden, Gettysburg. and loans for those who wish to continue their education."

At the present time, he said, "about 35 to 40 per cent" of the local graduates continue their education. He estimated that percentage is "up about 10 per cent" over the number a decade ago.

Among reasons why high school students do not seek a higher education is "the obvious one, lack of ability. But there are many who have the ability to profit from additional education who do not continue with their schooling. Again there are several reasons. An automobile sometimes replaces an education. A youngster prefers the car to college. In some instances parents are opposed under the theory 'I made out well without it. Why do you need a college education?'"

"This is probably the most difficult argument for a youth to oppose. And then many simply can't wait. They want everything at once, marriage, a home, a car, a job and they don't want to wait four more years before they can get it. Some look at comparable salaries. A stenographer can graduate from Gettysburg High School and get a job at Washington paying as much as she could obtain as a beginning teacher if she took four more years education. That makes a number decide against college."

Dr. John Zinn, retired professor of chemistry at Gettysburg College, said, "Since Riegler's there Gettysburg High School is second to none. You would be amazed if you visited. I went there and found their science department is outstanding. There's none better anywhere. They're teaching in high school what I used to teach Freshmen in college. Gettysburg High School has superior teachers. We have a crack-jack of a high school."

Riegler said, "Some students rob themselves of a college education because they loaf until their Senior year. Then suddenly they find they want to continue their education and turn in an outstanding performance, but it is too late. The colleges are interested in the entire performance during high school."

Dr. Zinn declared, "I think the colleges are wrong in being interested in only what's on the record. Businesses are making the same error. Many boys develop late. If I had had the same treatment I'd never have gotten a Ph.D. or have been able to be a college professor. The same would have held true of many of the young men I taught who did fairly poorly in college but who had good stuff in them. There was a day when I could call the dean of a medical school for example and say this boy's marks are not high, but he has the ability and will make a good doctor, and they accepted him. Now the only thing they are interested in is what's on the record and that way they overlook some of the best men."

Clark Smith, vice president of Rotary, in introducing Riegler, said, "He is one of the finest educators in the business, a truly dedicated man."

The schedule of Charles Rogers, instrumental music instructor, was increased by one-half day. Starting next fall, he will teach three days a week at the school.

The salary of David Sanders, custodian and bus driver, was increased from $3,000 to $3,400 after the board learned that he is working 208 hours a month, including 104 hours driving the bus.

A member of the teaching staff appeared before the board to ask its policy concerning hiring of substitutes when teachers are called for jury duty. The board confessed it had no such policy and asked Supervising Principal Inskip to check policies of other school districts and report back.

The board adjourned its meeting until April 30 when it will meet with representatives of Buchart Associates to discuss plans for the addition to the jointure school.

Christ Passed This Way Going To Jerusalem; Way Of Cross On Friday Follows This Street

EDITOR'S NOTE — A camel driver, an Arab horseman, a camel caravan — it might have been that Holy Week millennia ago when Christ and His followers passed along this winding, dusty road to Jerusalem. Here a traveler retraces that momentous procession, linking the past to the present. This is the second of five articles on the locale of the Easter drama.

PART 2

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
JERICHO, Jordan (AP) — He passed this way one fateful day. A country man from Galilee. Going to the city. He and His apostles. Rough-shod, thoughtful men, of weathered brow, going to Jerusalem.

It is a dusty road, some 90 miles of dusty road, cutting through Samaria, or following the Jordan River plain. The road is paved in parts today. It's dusty even with the pavement. Then, the pavement wasn't there.

Just the dust. And tramping on, begrimed of flesh and torn in spirit.

"Let us go again into Judea," Jesus told His men. It would be the final time. "Let us go also," Thomas said, "that we may die with him." And so, the 12 began the trip afoot.

My wife and I were driven over it by car.

AREA IS OLD

The area is old, so old, as old as when He passed this way. You see the black-wool bedouin tents. You see the plodding camels pulling wooden walking plows. You see the oil lamps and matted rooftops strewn with drying figs.

And sun and dust — dust devil whirling, darting, playing in the thorny magary and sage.

Sebastia is 40 miles into the mountains north of here, and whether Jesus took that route across Samaria, or veered along the river, He undoubtedly was conscious of the spot as He passed near.

For that is where King Herod had a sumptuous retreat, where Salome supposedly performed for John the Baptist's head, and where, as one tradition has it, the firebrand herald of the Savior spent his last imprisoned days.

ROCKHEWN CELL

We descended to the jail. Three men took turns in struggling with a rusty lock and eight-inch key before that ancient, creaking door was opened. Far below, down 20 steps, the narrow rock-hewn cell was dank and dark. A pair of tiny, slanting vents cast specks of light where long ago the shaggy Baptist may have sat.

"There is not a greater prophet . . ." Jesus once had said of him.

On higher ground, remains of Herod's castle stand amid the uncompleted excavations, hoary ghosts of moldy majesty. Tribunals, towers, statues, massive chambers, balconies, a stadium and colonnades.

Untold domains have yet to be uncovered, here as elsewhere in the Holy Land, the work undone for lack of funds. Bright-eyed threadbare boys thereabouts were peddling Caesar's ancient coins that haunt the soil for seven fils — just 20 cents. A hollow royal pillar, shattered lengthwise, serves the village as a public water trough for horses, mules and goats.

HAMLET OF SYCHAR

"The first shall be the last . . . the last shall be the first . . ."

He passed this way, or somewhere near. A few miles east, a valley spreads between the rugged mountains. High on either side near the wooded peaks of

THE ECCE HOMO ARCH—Their shouts prevailed and Pilate decided that they should have their way. The Ecce Homo Arch contains a stone on which Pilate stood when he turned Jesus over to the mob. The Way of the Cross procession on Good Friday follows this street to Calvary.

Gerrizim and Ebal. On the edge of Ebal is the hamlet of Sychar, beside the Mahneh plain.

When Jesus crossed it on a prior trip, the jaded woman of Samaria encountered Him at Jacob's well. It still is there, the slaty rock that forms its cup-shaped head — worn deep with grooves around the opening by countless drawing ropes.

JESUS DRANK HERE

We drew a bucketful. It tasted cool, delicious fresh. Hot and weary, Jesus drank there, too, and told the trollop of Sychar: "Whoever drinks of water that I give will never thirst. . . ." And she became a fervent advocate.

Moving south and east, the rough limestone terrain is flecked with herds of dusky sheep. An Arab horseman now and then. A camel train, with swaying leads, the driver on a donkey.

These horses are the kings on this remote and rustic range, their limbs like thin and tapered steel, their muscles huge, their heads held high, with wile and flashing eye.

Ahead the vast and hilly Jordan plain is sorrel in the sun. He passed this way, in dusty stride, Past bramble, crags and sandy dunes. Past isolated nomad tents, or huts of rock, with bantam roosters, guinea pigs and toddlers at the door. Past children carrying wood, or sowing grain by hand. One lovely, frisky little girl in rags we met was named "Kawkab" — or "Waking Star."

"Let the little children come to me . . . forbid them not. . . ."

PASSED THIS WAY

He passed this way. Past the distant hills of Gilead and Moab, east beyond the Jordan, where old Moses viewed the promised land from Nebo's peak. Past the Valley of the Dancers to the west, where ancient men of Judah, short of women, kidnapped wives by night and whisked them

Steep and soaring, on the right, appears the jagged desolation of the Mountain of Temptation, high and sheer, with ledges, caverns, spikes and cliffs, a monastery in its top, an ancient winery below.

Looking to the left, you see the flat and sticky Dead Sea waters, lowest place on earth, and lifeless as its name. The bare Judean hills ahead are stark and pallid gray, a wilderness of humpbacked earth, eroded, grim, crossed by crooked, zig-zag roads.

More than once, He passed this way, and sometimes lingered here to pray, in solitude. A wasteland for His sanctuary. Gorges, gullies, massive barren heights and dust. A coyote's cry and birds of prey.

He passed this way. He and His men, a goatskin bag of water slung across one's back. "Truly, truly . . . the hour cometh. . . ."

Further on, the glum, depleted ground gives way to yellow limestone, reds and browns.

Crossing waddies, basins, hills, the sharply twisting road goes by a lonely inn to which the "good Samaritan" supposedly conveyed the injured stranger. It's now a modern outpost for police, but ancient walls and old mosaic fragments still are visible. It's 10 miles from the city.

VIEW ENVIRONS

At length, atop a pass, you catch a glimpse of its environs. "Jerusalem, Jerusalem . . . how often would I have gathered thy children . . . but you would not!"

On the outskirts, Jesus came to Bethany, the hillside home of Martha and her sister, Mary, friends who often sheltered Him. Here, as almost everywhere in Palestine, the hallowed sites and ruins are covered by a church.

Possibly He rested there that day, and then went on, the final mile into Jerusalem. He rode a donkey down the mountainside, across the valley, through the city gate, as long before was prophesied. The people showered Him with praises, flowers, leaves of palms, hosannas. But He knew. And cried.

Police Help Woman Into Locked House

Borough police were at the right spot at the right time Saturday morning when a door blew shut, locking a local citizen out of her home.

According to the police report, the officers were called to the Gettysburg Motors lot when a car parked there drifted out of the lot.

They arrived to find that people in the area already had pushed the vehicle back onto the lot.

However, a Mrs. Maust, York St., according to the report, had come out of her house, the door went shut and she was locked out. However her son was at the movie and the officers drove to the Majestic, secured his key and returned to let Mrs. Maust into her home.

Dr. Rasmussen Is Guest Preacher

Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, professor of systematic theology at Gettysburg Theological Seminary, is the speaker at the noonday services being held at the Maryland Theater in Hagerstown during Holy Week. The services are sponsored annually by the Washington County Council of Churches and are held Monday through Thursday of Holy Week from 12:05 to 12:35 p.m., for the convenience of those downtown who desire to attend such services.

Monday, Dr. Rasmussen's topic was "The Miracle Behind All Miracles," and the Rev. J. Russell Butcher, minister of the Presbyterian Church, presided.

The Hagerstown service clubs will attend the service on their respective meeting days.

crosses it and be more than a quarter mile wide at Bridgeport, where the Emmitsburg-Taneytown Rd. now crosses the river. The present buildings and outdoor theater there would be underwater according to the map. The Mairs Mill area, near Harney, would be under water.

IN ALL 4 PLANS

The backed up water would enter Adams County, giving Rock and Marsh Creek a new bed in some places. The minimum height of backed up water would put at least two farms under water. The maximum would extend the basin to near Natural Dam, making a stream a quarter mile wide in most areas.

Middle Creek at maximum water level would be an eighth of a mile at its present crossing of the Emmitsburg-Harney Rd.

The approximately 100 property owners in the northern area of Frederick County have been especially invited to attend Thursday's meeting which is also open to the public. On a 375-foot mean sea level line the water would flood approximately 3,500 acres. The maximum water level at 388 feet would flood 5,480 acres. About 83 homes will be inundated by the plan.

The dam is one of a number proposed by the Corps of Engineers for orderly development of the water resources of the Potomac Basin over the next 50 years. The Army engineers have proposed four separate plans for the area. The Monocacy Dam is a part of all four plans.

School Board

accounted for partly by book-keeping changes, by increases in the adult education program and in Freedom Twp. transportation costs.

The new per capita tax is expected to bring in $28,367, which represents 90 per cent collection of the five per cent levy on a total occupation assessment of $630,390. The real estate tax at 50 mills, which is listed as 98.5 per cent collectible, will bring in $283,440 and the $12.50 per capita tax will bring in about $45,900.

MERGER A BENEFIT

The real estate transfer tax income fluctuates from year to year but is estimated for budget purposes at $15,000 for next year.

During discussion it was brought out that: The only places the board had any choice was between real estate and occupation levies for the $12.50 per capita tax; that one reason the local tax burden has been rising steadily is that state appropriations are not keeping pace with rising school costs, many of them mandated by state law; and that per pupil costs in the Gettysburg jointure are "a little below state averages."

Superintendent Riegle pointed out that the expected $186,016 in state appropriations next year contains about $7,500 that the districts get as a result of forming a merger last year. He pointed out that the merger benefit money amounts to about one and one-half mills of taxation.

$38,000 BALANCE HELPS

The local school district expects to end the current year on July 2 with a balance of about $38,000. The expected balance at the end of the next school year will be about $1,200, so that even with the tax increase the school income will not be paying the full 1962-63 bill. The remainder of the cost will be met with the $38,000 carry-over balance.

The board expects to earn about $700 in interest on short-term deposits of school funds which each year are placed on interest after taxes come in until such time in the school year as they are needed to pay bills.

The real estate tax in the Gettysburg Area district is levied on an assessed valuation of $5,755,454, up about $32,000 from a year ago.

President Robert H. Deardorff presided at the meeting with these directors in attendance: Horace H. Waybright, Orville B. Orner, Dr. Jacob W. Heikkinen, G. Jack Oyler, Norman L. Plank, Mrs. Muriel Rice, Mr. Weaver and William J. Williams and a newly-appointed member, Mrs. Eleanor Cunningham of Freedom Twp.

CANDIDATE TALKS

The nominee Mr. Sheads received by mail was the name of Dr. Edwin J. Breidenbaugh, for 40 years a chemistry professor at Gettysburg College and the man for whom Breidenbaugh Science Hall was named.

In connection with his reference to the "off boat" characters in the county's past, he read a newspaper account of "Johnny Maloney" who died in the county home two decades or more ago after being one of the town's more colorful characters for many years.

President David Bloser presided at the club meeting with more than 50 in attendance. Kenneth G. Reinhart Jr. introduced the speaker.

Earl Good, a member of the Kreutz Creek Lions Club in York County and candidate for district governor at the state convention in Scranton in May, spoke briefly. He was introduced by International Councilor Carroll Doll.

Another Kreutz Creek Club guest was Carl Barley.

Fairfield Church Clears Debt Sunday

In the annual Cash Day offering Sunday at Zion Lutheran Church, Fairfield, the congregation relieved itself of its entire debt. The Cash Day offering is received only once a year and goes towards debt reduction and building fund. The offering collected in Sunday's service totaled $3,000.49. The debt of the church was $2,900.

In Sunday's offering, the collection from the congregation was $1,722 and the various organizations of the church added $1,118.49 for a total of $2,840.49 in cash with an additional $160 in pledges.

Of the total, all but $400 is from "free will" offering. The remaining money is a result of the Women Workers of Zion Christian Service project of serving bi-monthly dinners to the Fairfield Lions Club. This is the first time since 1953 that the church has been free from debt.

9 RECEIVED INTO CHURCH

Nine young people were received into the membership of Centenary Methodist Church, on profession of faith at the Palm Sunday worship service. Received by the pastor, the Rev. William R. Jones, were: Donald Mark Koonitz, Judith Ann Rimel, Bonnie Lee Ramsey, Dennis Wulfer, Musselman, Nancy Marie Koonitz, Linda Mae Roberts, Douglas Allen Ruggles, Michael LeRoy Clouser and Deborah Irene Mitz.

New members by certificate of dismissal included: Mrs. Walter Koonitz from St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Harney; Miss Ada Myrtle Waltman, from St. Luke's Lutheran Church, near White Hall; Bernard Leroy Clouser, from Christ United Church of Christ, near town.

During the worship, the Rev. Mr. Jones baptized Keith Ryan Warehime, son of John Lewis and Betty Jean Warehime, near town, born November 10, 1961, in Gettysburg, and Anthony James Schroll, son of Lynton Melmus and Gwendolyn Sue (Shull) Schroll, W. King St., born February 11 in Gettysburg. Connie Lou Clouser, daughter of Bernard Leroy and Gladys Augusta Clouser, N. Queen St., born on May 14, 1958, in Gettysburg, was baptized on Monday at the parsonage by the pastor.

LIBRARY BENEFIT

A larger congregation attended the service on Sunday, when the Senior choir sang the anthem "Hosanna, Blessed Is He," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Estella Furlow. The Rev. Mr. Jones read the Scripture lesson from Matthew 6:1-34 and delivered the sermon on the theme "The Reward of God." The altar flowers were placed by Mrs. Audrey Osborne. Mrs. Grace Emerson and Charles Osborne in memory of their husband and father, Raymond W. Osborne.

The official board of Centenary Church will meet at 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday at the church. The Junior and Senior choirs will have a combined rehearsal at 6:30 o'clock this evening. "The Resurrection" will be the subject of the sermon at the Holy Week service on Thursday, 7:30 p.m.: "The Church," sermon theme at the service on Good Friday, 7:30 p.m. There will be Holy Communion services on Easter Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. Easter flowers donors should contact the

The Woman's Community Club of Littlestown and vicinity will sponsor a public card party on Wednesday, April 25, 8 p.m. in the all purpose room of the Rolling Acres Elementary School. Proceeds will go to the local free lending library. All prizes for the affair should be taken no later than Wednesday to the John L. Redding barber shop, S. Queen St., or the home of Mrs. Leroy W. Bish, Prince St. The prizes will then be on display at the barber shop. Anyone wishing to have prizes collected should contact Mrs. Bish.

THE ENTIRE COST OF THE MUSEUM TOTALS $500,000. The interior layout, the exhibits and displays are the product of Earl W. Dorfman, vice president of the local corporation and managing director of the parent organization in Washington.

All the figures are made of a new vinyl material which will last indefinitely. Human hair was used on all the figures and all the hairlines were implanted strand by strand. The work necessitated a year and a half in planning and a year to manufacture the displays. It required two and one-half months to install the exhibits. All local persons were employed in the installation work.

USED SPECIALISTS

Dorfman said many specialists were employed in producing the exhibition including: Three sculptors, two body proportion specialists, hairdressers, wig makers, costumers, mold makers, plastic casting experts and artists.

The electronic controls in the Battle Room presentation cost $5,000, Dorfman said.

The building is air-conditioned. William F. Richardson III is the manager. The entire staff of full and part-time employees are Adams Countians with one exception, an employee who resides in Hanover.

The museum will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily from March 15 to October 31; and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. from November 1 until March 14.

Dorfman said that the owners "feel that the museum should be open all year to serve visitors who come at the peak of the season or during the winter." He added that his associates are building another museum at Harper's Ferry to portray the life of John Brown.

Today's Talk

BLESSINGS

There is a song I used to rather like which was sung when I was a small boy, called "Count Your Blessings."

Well, I am sure that if more of us counted them as they came to us there would be fewer complainers in this world, for many times we are apt to feel that the rough part of the road has been turned over to us, and that all of our bread is stale.

If we would simply count our blessings though, just for a single day, what a difference it would make. The blessings of health, a comfortable place to sleep in a simple room, adequate clothes to protect the body, one or two real friends, books — the best in the world for but a few cents each — something at which to work and earn an honest living, the sunshine, the refreshing rain, the beauties of nature, the telephone, the telegraph, the radio and TV, the efficient mail service, both by air and rail, free public libraries and picture galleries — but why go further?

The poorest is able to walk out into this big world and own much more in his heart than the richest in money with no love in his heart.

I walked out into the woods that comprise a part of my home grounds. I thought of all that this spot of beauty had cost in work and sacrifice over the years. Then I sat on one of the rustic chairs and listened to the returned birds and was thrilled at the gladness that poured forth from their throats. I watched them bathe in the pool and I knew they were happy. Then I realized that these visitors cost me nothing. The wild flowers, new with the early spring, and the full-leaved trees — just a few of the gifts that money cannot really buy.

Blessings? What a world of them. Only those who fail to serve are unhappy because "the whole world is wrong."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Accepting" Protected, 1962, by The George Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

GOLF COUNSEL
If skillful golf you'd learn to play
Stand firmly on your feet
And do not let your body sway
As ball and club head meet;
Keep down your head, as when you pray,
Until the shot's complete.

Viselike, a golf club never clutch
As if from you 'twould slip.
But give it to a lighter touch
And use the finger grip.
Remember this ('twill ship you much),
Don't let the shoulder hoist or dip.

Don't be a golf contortionist!
Be easy, and relax,
Hit with the hand, the arm and wrist
Smooth blows, not vicious whacks.
Don't lunge or let your body twist
As if you held an axe!

Be graceful! Let the club head go
With full-length follow through,
Wait patiently and time the blow,
'Twill distance gain for you.
But when all this you've come to know
You'll find it hard to do.

JUDGE ASKED TO DECIDE ON SUNDAY LAWS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Faced with refusal by magistrates to issue warrants for alleged Blue Law violations, Police Commissioner Albert N. Brown said he would go before President Judge Eugene V. Alessandrini of Common Pleas Court No. 5 today.

Alessandrini is sitting in the miscellaneous division of Quarter Sessions Court.

Brown said he had affidavits citing 91 persons with a total of 167 violations Sunday, the second week of attempted full-scale enforcement of the law which bans sale of certain items on Sunday. Appeals had delayed previous enforcement.

The magistrates claim summonses should be issued instead of warrants.

Brown announced his plans Monday after consulting with Dist. Atty. James C. Crumlish. Brown said the district attorney told him that Alessandrini had "expressed his willingness to issue the warrants."

TO DISCUSS ISSUE

Crumlish said Alessandrini would meet today with all of the principals involved in the procedural dispute to discuss the legal issues before issuing warrants.

Not one of the 28 magistrates in the city would issue a warrant when the affidavits were presented to them Monday. They stood firm behind Chief Magistrate Joseph J. Hersch who last week insisted that warrants were improper in blue law cases and that summonses should be issued instead.

A warrant is an order for the physical arrest of a person. A summons notifies a person of a charge against him and the time and place of hearing.

Brown mentioned the possibility of a court test of the warrants. He said such action might be brought by an attorney for any defendants convicted on charges contained in the warrants.

Say Kerr-Mills Plan Is Best

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The proposed King-Anderson bill on medical care for the aged would not provide a needy person with 75 per cent of the care he needs, say an official of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Edward R. Annis, chairman of the AMA's Speakers Bureau, said Monday that the bill would take care of only about 25 per cent of a patient's medical bills.

At the same time, Dr. Annis praised the proposed Kerr-Mills medical care plan. He said that plan would provide 100 per cent of an indigent's needs if properly administered.

"The King-Anderson bill would provide 25 per cent of medical care for a rich man, and it would mean nothing to him," the Miami surgeon said at a news conference. "On the other hand, it would also provide 25 per cent for the needy person, and still leave him with 75 per cent of his problem. People who need medical aid should not have to pay anything."

Annis said too many people are committed to the passing of the King-Anderson measure, including Gov. Lawrence. He said "it looks like some people in some sections of this state don't want this (Kerr-Mills) bill to work."

Imprisoned For Life On 2 Counts

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 32-year-old man from Pittsburgh's Hill District has received two life imprisonment terms for the fatal shooting of two men at a tavern last January.

William H. Alexander was sentenced Monday in Allegheny County Court by Visiting Judge Robert H. McCreary of Beaver County.

Alexander was accused of fatally wounding Ernest Hendley, 41, and Charles A. Horne, 38, in a shooting spree at Luscanti's Cafe in the Hill District.

He pleaded guilty to the Horne death and was convicted by a jury of first degree murder in the death of Hendley.

THE WOULD-BE DISCIPLE

"And another also said, Lord, I will follow thee; but let me first go bid them farewell, which are at home at my house."

—Luke IX: 61

Among those who gathered often to listen to Jesus, there were always some who, moved by His words, wanted then and there to become disciples.

This man was one of them. He had not stopped to consider what discipleship really meant: a total change in one's familiar habits and thinking.

Family responsibilities, possessions, home, self-concern—all these had to become secondary for the man who would follow in the way of the Master.

Jesus demonstrated this in His own life from the first. When He was only twelve and His mother, believing Him lost, finally found Him questioning the learned doctors at the Temple, He told His parents:

"How is it that ye sought me? Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?"

Years later, during His ministry, as He talked to the people, "his mother and his brethren stand without, desiring to speak with him." But His answer was:

"Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?"

Did this mean that earthly relations were of no importance? Not at all. The tenderest and most filial bond existed between the Savior and His mother. Even as He was dying upon the Cross, He thought of her welfare and committed her care to John, the beloved disciple.

What He did mean was that God and the service of God must come first.

"He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me," He had told His own disciples.

But this would-be disciple could not understand this. He had thought that following Jesus could be merely an exciting avocation, like music, art, or philosophy.

It had not occurred to him that, as William Law once observed, "Our kingdom go" is the necessary and unavoidable corollary of "Thy kingdom come."

Driver Sentenced On Pep Pill Charge

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—Truck driver Harold E. Goff, 35, of Flora, Ill., was fined $200 and given a 90-day jail term Monday for possessing pep pills while driving a truck on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

State police said they found 25 pills on Goff when they stopped him on the toll road last month.

Goff pleaded guilty to the charge under a new law passed by the 1961 Pennsylvania Legislature.

In sentencing Goff, Judge Thomas F. Lansberry of Somerset County remarked:

"I want to serve notice that we will not tolerate truckers traveling through this county and using or having with them these pep pills, goof balls or bennies."

FIND OFFICER'S BODY

CHESTERTOWN, Md. (AP)—The body of Lt. Earl J. Lewis, commander of the Maryland state police at North East, was recovered Sunday from the Sassafras River in Kent County.

Lewis, 44, had been missing and presumed drowned since April 1, when his wife said he left in an outboard motor boat to empty a net he had staked in the water.

Lewis, an expert waterman, had been cited three times for rescues of seven persons on Chesapeake Bay.

Approve Measure For Construction

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House authorized measure of $1,524,197,000 for military construction, including $3,292,000 for projects in Pennsylvania, was on its way to the Senate today.

The House action came Monday by voice vote. It is subject to later appropriations. At the same time the House denied Defense Department requests for direct control over noncombat operations of the armed services.

The total was $72.5 million less than the budget request. It covers new or additional construction at 466 defense installations at home and abroad.

The bulk of the Pennsylvania projects were ticketed for Philadelphia installations which were authorized $3,217,000.

These included Navy: Philadelphia Naval Shipyard, maintenance facilities, $1,275,000; Naval Air Material Center, $482,000 for administrative facilities; Naval Regional Accounts Office, $250,000 for administrative facilities; Naval Hospital, $190,000, for utilities.

Other projects in Pennsylvania: Army: Carlisle Barracks, $490,000 for a community facility. Navy: Johnstons, troop housing, $585,000.

Name Winners In Embassy Contest

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Neal Simpson, Chester, and Terry Telander, Perkiomen, were named winners of an embassy model building contest sponsored by high schools in the five-county Philadelphia area.

Each received honor award certificates and prizes of $100 Monday night. Warren F. Frook of Phoenixville and Bernard J. Katz of Olney received runner-up merit awards and $50 cash prizes.

The contestants submitted to the General Building Contractors Association models of a proposed U.S. embassy building.

Man Crushed Inside Huge Farm Machine

OXFORD, Pa. (AP)—The motor of a huge farm machine being prepared to crush feed was turned on Monday without knowing a man was inside. The man, John Herr, about 30, of Nottingham, was crushed to death inside the hammer mill.

Deputy Coroner Ernest Schneider of Chester County said Herr, Vaughn Harris, of Oxford, and John Lindsey, owner of the nearby farm where the accident occurred, were preparing the machine to crush feed.

Schneider said Harris returned from getting a drink of water while Herr was inside the machine working on its motor and apparently inadvertently turned it on.

Ex-Governor Of Va. Gets U.S. Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today nominated former Virginia Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. to be a judge of the U.S. Court of Customs and Patent Appeals.

The lifetime position pays $25,500 annually.

Almond, a native of Charlottesville, Va., will be 64 on June 15. He served as Virginia's governor from January 1958 until January of this year. Before that, he was state attorney general and a member of Congress.

Almond was nominated to succeed retiring Judge Ambrose O'Connell.

IKE WRITES ON PROSPECTS OF GOP IN PENNA.

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower suggests the Republican party might want to choose a comparative newcomer to national prominence as its 1964 presidential candidate.

Writing in the Saturday Evening Post, Eisenhower says: "Maybe our candidate should be someone well-known—maybe not. We should let our minds roam the field."

"We have many able young men in Congress, a number of personable and competent Republican governors."

HOPES FOR GAINS

"There are men in private life—in business, education and the professions—who should not be counted out. We cannot overlook the possibility that one of these men may emerge and become a person of national stature during the next two years."

The former president devoted most of the article, "Ike Takes a Look At the GOP," to criticizing Republican pessimism and urging the GOP to build at the local level.

Discussing elections this fall, Eisenhower touched on Michigan, California, Pennsylvania and New York.

"The first three of these now have Democratic governors," he said. "And if we can capture those and hold New York where it is now, in the Republican column, we will have made a significant gain."

He said people frequently ask him what he thinks of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's chances of winning the California gubernatorial race.

"I think they are good," Eisenhower added.

Eisenhower declared he felt the party should be looking forward, not backward, and said he belonged to the past.

"This statement does not mean that I want to be forgotten," he explained. "I like to be consulted on important party and governmental matters, and I want to give what help I can."

"But the time has come when I should not be a focal point of Republican activity and planning."

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Thomas E. Kennedy, president of the United Mine Workers, says he "contemplates no action" in regard to a union official convicted in an income tax case.

August J. Lippi of Exeter was found guilty by a federal jury Friday of conspiring to evade corporate taxes in a case involving the defunct Knox Coal Co.

Lippi is president of the Mine Workers' District 1, a $17,000 a year job.

Warriors Lose Opening SP Game 1-0; Entertain Waynesboro On Thursday

Gettysburg High School finally got its baseball season underway Monday when it suffered a 1-0 setback at Chambersburg in the opening South Penn League game which resolved itself into a brilliant pitching duel between Tom Duane of the Warriors and Gary Faust of the Trojans. Chambersburg is the defending league champion.

The only run of the game came in the last of the sixth inning. John McNew led off with a single. Dave Wauss laid down a sacrifice bunt and McNew streaked the entire way to third base when the bag was left uncovered. Jack Mull then dribbled a single between first and second base. McNew scoring with the only run of the game.

TRIPLE WASTED

Gettysburg's best scoring opportunity came in the third inning when Conway Bushey led off by blasting a triple, the only extra base hit of the game, but he was left stranded when Faust fanned the next three batters.

Faust whiffed 13 batters and walked one. Duane displayed an excellent fast ball and curve to live up to expectations of Coach Don Young. He struck out seven, walked one batter and allowed but three hits. Both pitchers were the route and, despite the cold, windswept field, were in mid-season form.

Tommy Collins pined two of the Warriors' four hits and turned in a brilliant game field at shortstop with several fine long throws and good stops.

The Warriors will meet Waynesboro here in a nonleague game Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

EAGLES TAKE 3RD STRAIGHT

Bermudian Springs won its third straight baseball victory to up its record to 3-2 by clobbering Susquehanna 10-2 at York Springs Monday afternoon.

Coach Pete Kemper's Eagles sewed up the contest with a six-run rally in the last of the third inning.

Tom Hardy and Paul McCauslin each pined a pair of hits for the winners, one of Hardy's going for a double, the lone extra base blow of the game. Ken Groupe, who pitched the first five innings, was the winning pitcher.

Bermudian will host Biglerville at York Springs on Wednesday.

McGuire On Campus For Coaching Job

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Frank McGuire, coach of the professional basketball Philadelphia Warriors, was to visit here again today to discuss a job as basketball coach at the University of South Carolina.

The former University of North Carolina coach was here for a two-day visit last week. He currently has two years left on a $25,000-a-year coaching job with the Warriors.

The Warriors may move to San Francisco and McGuire says he is not anxious to move to the West Coast for just two years.

42-YEAR-OLDER PICKS UP 1ST WIN FOR BUGS

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
It's been a long, uphill climb for Diomedes Olivo, who started out in the Dominican Republic and found the end of the rainbow in Chicago.

That's where the Pittsburgh rookie pitcher came up with the first victory of his major league career—at the age of 42—by hurling strong relief ball while the unbeaten Pirates were defeating Chicago's winless Cubs 6-5 Monday.

Coming in relief in the fourth inning with the Pirates trailing 4-1, Olivo went 4 1-3 innings, checking the Cubs on four hits and a lone run while Pittsburgh rallied to win it and hand the lanky left-hander his pot of gold JUST STANDING.

Olivo began his climb from Guayabin, reaching the first plateau eight years ago when he won his first berth in organized baseball with Havana of the International League. He had a trial with the Pirates in 1960 but had no record.

Back with Columbus of the International League last year, Olivo won 11, lost 7 and compiled a 2.01 earned run average that got him another shot with the parent club. Now, when most pitchers are looking forward to a rocking chair, he's just getting started.

The victory gave the Pirates a 5-0 record. St. Louis remained undefeated, belting Philadelphia 12-6 for victory No. 4. In other games, San Francisco clobbered Los Angeles 19-8 and Cincinnati edged Milwaukee 2-1.

Houston and New York were postponed due to cold weather. There were no games scheduled in the American League.

The Phils and Cards each scored six times in the first inning before a solo homer by Gene Oliver put Don Ferrarese in the third put St. Louis ahead to stay behind the relief pitching of Ernie Broglio, Broglio, who took over in that wild first, limited the Phils to five hits the rest of the way.

Oliver was 3-for-5 with two RBI while Bill White and rookie Doug Clemens each drove in three runs.

Felipe Alou's solo homer and a two-run shot by Jim Davenport, both off Dodgers starter Stan Williams in the second inning, gave the Giants an edge they never relinquished. Willie Mays also homered for San Francisco, hitting No. 4 with two on in the sixth. The Giants wound up with 12 hits and made the most of 10 walks and three Dodger errors plus a steal of home by Orlando Cepeda. Billy O'Dell was the winner, going the distance although allowing 15 hits.

Joey Jay, a 21-game winner who had lost his first two starts, went the distance to gain the victory for the Reds by holding the Braves to eight hits. Frank Robinson accounted for both Cincinnati runs with a bases-loaded double in the sixth that handed the loss to former American Leaguer Bob Shaw.

Bermudian will host Biglerville at York Springs on Wednesday.

Plum, Paul Brown In Hassle Again

CLEVELAND (AP)—The latest grading of the Cleveland Browns' players and plays has drawn an angry retort from Milt Plum, the quarterback who was recently traded to the Detroit Lions.

The survey, disclosed Monday, shows that 70 per cent of the Cleveland passes thrown by the quarterback traveled only seven yards and that one of three never got beyond the line of scrimmage during the 1961 season.

"Who calls the plays?" asked Plum.

BROWN CALLS PLAYS

Coach Paul Brown calls all Cleveland's plays from the sidelines, a tactic that is often criticized. Plum was one of those who didn't like the system and said so this winter. A few months later he was traded in a six-man deal in which Detroit quarterback Jim Ninowski came to the Browns.

Plum said he felt the release of parts of the survey was an effort to discredit him. He explained he wanted no more verbal duels with Brown, but then added:

"I don't feel I can let this go unanswered. Everybody knows who calls the plays and that I didn't have the option to go to the long pass."

"Except in situations of desperation, I'd estimate that not more than two long passes were called a game. And that flare screen is regular pass with that man off the primary receiver."

CELTICS TOP LAKERS AGAIN

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Boston Celtics and the Los Angeles Lakers fight it out Wednesday night in Boston for the National Basketball Association championship.

"We blew it; we let 'em off the hook," weary Laker Coach Fred Schaus said as he trudged to the dressing room after the Celtics had won the sixth game Monday night, 119-105. "But we've won two games in Boston and there's no reason why we can't win another."

Celtic team leader Bob Cousy sees it differently.

"Now that we've got the Lakers in Boston we'll beat them," he said. "This is the kind of club that meets the big challenge. We can have our backs to the wall, and when all seems lost, we come through."

The Lakers looked like winners when they beat the defending NBA champs in Boston last Saturday night and they looked like winners when they started fast and had a 65-57 lead at the end of the first half Monday night.

But the Celtics made an almost unbelievable comeback in the third quarter, scoring 34 points and bottling up the Lakers' one-two punch, Elgin Baylor and Jerry West. Los Angeles could get only 16 points in this quarter, and although they made a belated run for it late in the final period, Cousy's two clutch 20-foot push shots put the chill on their rally.

MOUNT DOWNS LOYOLA TRACK SQUAD 91-31

Mt. St. Mary's track team won its third dual meet in four outings by outclassing Loyola of Baltimore 91-31 Monday afternoon at Emmitsburg as two new Mount school records were established.

Duncan Bossie and John Dolan, who won two events apiece, each set a new school mark. Bossie streaked to a 51.2 clocking in the 440-yard dash and Dolan turned in a 25.4 mark in the 180 low hurdles to set the records. Dolan had previously set the record in the hurdles at 25.7 on Saturday against Catholic U.

Bossie jumped 23 feet to win the broad jump and Dolan won the high hurdles in 16.2.

Today the Mount is scheduled to take part in the Gallaudet Relays at Washington, D. C.

Gettysburg Listed On "Shunpike Tour"

Tourists from all parts of the nation will be attracted to the Pennsylvania Dutch Country because of a feature in May Holiday magazine released today.

The publication details a "shunpike" (back roads) tour of the area which begins and ends in Lancaster.

Landis Valley, Bareville, New Holland, Hinktown, Ephrata, Reading, Shartlesville, Lebanon, Lititz, Hershey, Harrisburg, Gettysburg, Hanover and York are among the places author Jacob Hay, a native, visited in his "ramble" through the area with his British-born wife.

Schnitz um gnepp, Lebanon bologna, Lititz pretzels and chicken corn soup were some of the Pennsylvania Dutch dishes the author took delight in introducing to Mrs. Hay.

Comments Hay at the conclusion of the tour, "And now my wife knows that dried apple slices, schmitz, go wonderful good with gnepp, cooked with country ham once already. Gnepp? Why dumpings, of course, as light as clouds and twice as good still."

For the 315-mile journey Mr. and Mrs. Hay spent a leisurely three days. They allocated $50 a day for food, lodging and other expenses.

PLANE HIJACK EFFORT FAILS

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—An airliner bound for South America returned to Amsterdam's Schiphol Airport Monday after an unsuccessful effort was made to hijack the plane and divert it to East Berlin. A KLM Airlines spokesman reported.

A man described as a former Portuguese employe of KLM Airlines, aged 30, was taken into custody by government police.

The plane had been airborne only 20 minutes.

The KLM spokesman said the man entered the pilot's cabin shortly after takeoff and ordered the captain to go to East Berlin, making a threatening gesture toward his pocket.

The pilot at first feigned fear and then informed Amsterdam control he was returning, after apparently convincing the intruder he had to return because of engine trouble, the spokesman added.

Police found a pistol on the detained man.

The plane was bound for Santiago, Chile. After the Portuguese was taken off the plane, the flight continued.

Northern Spies Hijack Georgia Locomotive

Daring Stunt Triggers Chase, 20 Operatives Finally Seized

MARIETTA, Ga., April 12 — About 20 Union spies stole a locomotive near here today, setting off a chase that led to their capture several hours later.

The daring theft occurred at Big Shanty, some eight miles northwest of this Georgia city. Object of the operation was "The General," a handsome new locomotive of the Georgia State railroad.

The 20 northerners were among passengers on the mail train when it stopped at Big Shanty early in the morning to allow crew and riders to eat breakfast.

While the others piled into a railroad cafe, the 20 men, in civilian clothes, seemed to loiter around the locomotive, witnesses reported.

Suddenly, and with obviously elaborate planning, they unhitched the front end of the train—the locomotive, tender and three box cars—and headed north toward Chattanooga, some 100 miles to the north.

An astounded Southern sentry witnessed the larceny but did nothing to prevent it.

JAMES J. ANDREWS of Kentucky led the raiding party, acting under orders of Maj. Gen. Ormsby Mitchell.

The dramatic chase was led by the train's conductor, W. A. Fuller; other crewmen and a road superintendent, Anthony Murphy.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is planning at least 35 more

After witnesses burst into the restaurant to report the seizure of the locomotive, Murphy commandeered a handcar and set off in pursuit of the chugging locomotive.

AFTER 20 miles of this, the rail official came upon a steamed-up locomotive near Etowah, assumed control of it, and continued the chase.

Frequently, the Union raiders stopped to tear up rails and destroy telephone lines—their original purpose. In each case, the pursuing Southerners hastily relaid the rails and continued with the chase.

About 18 miles south of Chattanooga, the chase came to an end after the Union raiders ran out of fuel and took to the woods. Militiamen soon tracked them down and they were hauled off to Ringgold, Ga., and later to Chattanooga, where they were held for trial.

Kernstown Losses

Government run by women is called gynarchy.

According to an ancient Irish law, a citizen with an after-legal-hours thirst had to go a long way to alleviate it. The law decreed that a person who had come, or was about to go, 50 miles or more was entitled to a drink at a pub at any hour, day or night. Except to such travelers, pubs were closed at 10 p.m.

In Paris this year, theater-lovers can have their drama with a background of train noises. The 17th century play "Europe," by Cardinal de Richelieu and Desmarets de Saint Sorlin, is being staged in the middle of the French capital's busy Austerlitz railroad station. The clangor of arriving and departing trains furnishes fitting emphasis to the conflicts in the play, whose theme is the struggle between nations for domination of Europe.

The titles of early books on railways were almost as long as the railways. Among those much in demand by pioneer builders and investors was one published by Thomas Tredgold, English engineer and architect, with the rather formidable title "A Practical Treatise on Rail-Roads and Carriages, Shewing the Principles of Estimating Their Strength, Proportions, Expense, and Annual Produce, and the Conditions Which Render Them Effective, Economical, and Durable; of Steam Carriages, Stationary Engines and Gas Machines."

An American edition appeared in 1825, and in the same year a longer book with a shorter title came off the presses in London. Nicholas Wood authored "A Practical Treatise on Rail-Roads, and Interior Communication in General; with Original Experiments, and Tables of the Comparative Value of Canals and Rail-Roads." The 315-page book was later expanded to 600 pages.

Paddington Station, one of the foremost rail terminals of the world and the scene of many elaborate arrivals and departures of Britain's royal family, celebrated its 100th anniversary last month. It was designed by Isambard Kingdom Brunel, chief engineer of the former Great Western Railway. His foresight was such that despite great increases in traffic, the terminal met all requirements for more than 50 years. Until 1861, only seven-foot gauge trains used Paddington. In that year a third rail was laid to accommodate standard gauge equipment as well, but it wasn't until 1892, however, that the broad gauge was finally scrapped and only standard gauge rails used throughout the terminal.

Rudyard Kipling, like many a visitor to San Francisco, was tremendously impressed with the city's famed cable cars, whose continuance periodically becomes a bone of civic contention. When Kipling, on his way to India in 1889, stopped in the Golden Gate City, he wrote: "A cable car without any visible means of support slid stealthily up behind me and nearly struck me in the back. . . . I gave up asking questions about their mechanism. . . . If it please Providence to make a car run up and down a slit in the ground for many miles, and if for twopence-hapenny I can ride in that car, why should I seek reasons for that miracle?"

What might be termed a child's dream of the nicest train wreck in the world came to pass recently near Warkworth, England. A freight train loaded with candy ran off the track on the main London-Edinburgh line and scattered chocolates and bonbons for 150 yards. The mountain of sweets piled up by the crashed cars looked

Neutrals Offering Compromise Plan

GENEVA (AP)—The eight non-aligned nations at the disarmament conference Monday proposed a compromise control system in the hope of breaking the big-power deadlock on a nuclear weapon test ban.

The plan called for a control system based on already existing national networks of observation posts, the system advocated by the Soviet Union.

It provided for on-the-spot inspections of suspected explosions by an international commission of scientists from nonaligned countries if a country under suspicion invited them in. If the country refused to issue the invitation, the only recourse for the other signers of the test ban treaty apparently would be to renounce the test ban.

Since the Soviet Union has said repeatedly it would never admit foreign inspectors to its territory, the so-called compromise appeared to be much closer to the Soviet plan than to Western proposals for automatic international inspection of suspicious explosions.

like a combination of the Sugar Plum Tree and the Big Rock Candy Mountain.

A pigeon hobbled a train ride recently and received such royal treatment after she was bounced that she refused to return home. The bird stowed away on a northbound Boston & Maine freight. Trainmen found her, named her Polly, and turned her over to the station agent at Salem, N.H., 84-year-old Frank Bemis. He took her home for feeding. Polly liked Mr. Bemis' "tender loving care" so well she refused to leave when turned loose. No return ticket for her!

Canada's first subway is easing traffic troubles in Toronto. The $60,000,000 subway system began service early this year with facilities for carrying 40,000 passengers an hour each way. Six-car trains, spaced two and one half minutes apart, run at a speed of 50 miles an hour. Stations above and below ground offer passengers every convenience.

CHARGE UNION LEADER WITH SETTING FIRE

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—An arson charge has been filed against a 36-year-old union leader in connection with a $200,000 fire that wrecked a bus depot after a wage dispute.

Robert E. Garber, president of Local 336 of the United Rubber Workers Union, was held in $20,000 bail following his arrest Saturday by state police.

Among the members of Garber's local were 14 bus drivers and one mechanic who worked for the Pottstown Rapid Transit Co. before a work stoppage began last Dec. 18. The union had organized the workers earlier last year.

BURNED 20 BUSES

The fire in the depot in Upper Pottsgrove Township March 4 destroyed 20 buses, four cars, a truck and machinery. It halted bus service for Pottstown school children and curtailed bus transportation in the area.

Two weeks after the fire state police charged George E. Brockerman Jr., 27, of Limerick Township, with arson. He was held without bail.

Police last Friday also arrested Howard N. Oister on charges of arson and conspiracy. He was held in $5,000 bail.

Jews Take Stand On School Problem

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Jewish Congress has gone on record against any sectarian observances in public schools such as Bible-reading, prayer recitation and religious holiday celebrations. Among the religious holidays the group listed Christmas and Hanukkah, the eight-day Jewish Festival of Light.

Five hundred delegates unanimously asserted at the final session Sunday that sectarian practices impair religious freedom, violate the principle of church-state separation and interfere with fulfillment by the schools of their educational function.

Interviews with 73,436 Homemakers* Told Us Why MOST WOMEN WANT GAS RANGES

WHAT WOMEN SAID

1. GAS IS FASTER

"I don't have to wait for burners to heat up when I'm in a rush to get breakfast."

2. GAS GIVES BETTER RESULTS

"Flame broiling seems to bring out more flavor, whether it's indoors or out on the grill."

3. GAS IS MORE CONTROLLABLE

"I can turn down the flame while I look at the cookbook, and nothing burns."

4. GAS COOKING IS EASIER

"I find it easier to judge the degree of heat when I can see the size of the flame."

5. GAS IS MORE ECONOMICAL

"I do so much baking and cooking, it wouldn't make sense to use anything but gas."

6. GAS IS MORE DEPENDABLE

"It's nice to know that I'll always be able to cook a hot meal for my family on my gas range . . . even when it storms."

Who'll Pay The Builder?

Most contractors can't afford to wait for money until your home is complete—and your permanent mortgage is settled. So most people who build a home of their own must obtain a construction loan to pay the builder as construction progresses.

This is so basic and vital a part of building your own home that Wolf's New Home Department has made advance provisions for construction money. It's readily available to Wolf's customers.

This, of course, is only one small service of Wolf's New Home Department. At the outset Wolf's help you plan the home you want and can afford. Then they assure that this is the house and the price you get—just the way you planned it.

You can move into a new home, custom-built for you, this Summer. Now is the time to begin. Call ED 4-2117 and ask for Jack A. Newport, manager of Wolf's New Home Department, who is pictured above. There is no cost or obligation when you ask for an interview.

SINGER MAKES PERFORMANCE AFTER REBUFF

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pete Seeger, the folk singer convicted of contempt of Congress last year, made his scheduled appearance in Pittsburgh Monday night but not until after being rebuffed at two auditoriums.

Seeger performed at the First Unitarian Church Auditorium in the city's Shadyside section before an audience described as mostly of the college age by the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

Church officials offered their facilities to the 42-year-old singer after he had been blocked from performing at educational television station WQED and the Young Men's and Women's Hebrew Association.

DEFENSE OF DUE PROCESS

The board of trustees at the church said:

"We wish to emphasize that we take this action not in defense of Seeger or his views, but in defense of due process and free speech, in defense of principle that a citizen should be judged by courts, not by popular pressure, that a singer should be judged by his performance and not by his alleged political activities."

Seeger was convicted of contempt of Congress in 1961 for refusing to answer questions by the House Un-American Activities Committee on whether he had Communist ties.

3 PLACES PICKETED

About 60 young people picketed WQED and the YM & YWHA during the day. They carried signs that read:

"Let Freedom Ring. Let Seeger Sing."

"Don't Judge Art By Politics. And what did Seeger have to say about the controversy?"

"I am appalled that an educational institution would not want to take on anything controver-

SAYS YOUNG STAGE TALENT HAS CHANCES

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Rudyard Kipling appropriated the name first, for a little boy in his famous story, but currently there are three Kims in show business, all of star caliber and all female.

Sometimes it's confusing. There is Kim Hunter, who usually plays suffering, emotionally distraught ladies, a string of unhappy women that started with Stella in "A Streetcar Named Desire." There is Kim Novak, the screen actress with a passion for mauve that extends even to her hair rinse.

There is Kim Stanley, the blonde, serious-minded method actress who will star in tonight's main television event, a Tad Mosel original drama, "There's Where the Town's Going," on CBS.

IT WORKS

Miss Stanley feels that her studies at the Actor's Studio and guidance from Lee Strasberg have helped her immeasurably, but refuses to be drawn into discussions of the controversial "method."

"All I know is that it works for me," she says.

At a time when many performers are mourning the disappearance of road companies, stock companies and a diminution of acting opportunities in Hollywood, Miss Stanley believes that young talent has a better chance than ever before.

"There are now more good acting schools for young performers than ever," she says. "And there are more chances to act in off-Broadway shows."

VIEWERS DISAPPOINTED

Walter Cronkite's admirers—a legion which includes this reporter—may have been a little disappointed Monday night when his first early evening news show on CBS turned out to be pretty much like all other 15-minute news shows.

The real news of the day was, of course, the same as that reported by NBC's Huntley-Brinkley and ABC's Ron Cochran. His one special gimmick was a telephone interview with one of the excommunicated Southerners, with cameras on both ends of the line.

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—The Richard M. Nixon family has moved into its new home at 410 Martin Lane.

The former vice president interrupted his gubernatorial campaign Saturday to help his wife, Pat, and teen-age daughters, Patricia and Julie, carry in cartons of household goods.

The Nixon's new neighbors include Harpo and Groucho Marx. The family had been living in a rented house nearby.

READING, Pa. (AP)—James L. Suratt, 38, was shot and killed Sunday following an argument with Albert Norman, 28, police said.

They said Norman was arrested at the scene with a .22 calibre semi-automatic rifle in his possession and admitted the shooting. Both are Negroes.

SUGGEST FAT FREE DIETS FOR LITTLE BABIES

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A baby's very first meal should start him on a diet aimed at preventing a heart attack years later, two prominent physicians suggest.

That means changing the type of fats in his milk, and later on in his solid foods, they said.

The idea is to keep him from developing high amounts of cholesterol and other blood fats blamed for clogging arteries and bringing on heart attacks and strokes.

ALWAYS RISES

Babies are born with low levels of cholesterol in their blood, said Dr. Laurence W. Kinsell of Oakland, Calif., and Dr. Herbert Pollack of New York City.

It rises as they grow older if they eat the typical American foods high in so-called saturated fats, including dairy fats, they said.

The American Heart Association has urged a change in diet for adults. It recommends cutting down on the customary intake of saturated fats—the kind which usually are solid at room temperature—and increasing the intake of unsaturated fats supplied by vegetable oils, fish and fowl.

TYPICAL DIET

It would be a good idea to start babies right off on the same kind of diet, Kinsell and Pollack said at a symposium on coronary heart disease sponsored by Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital. Later they amplified their views to newsmen.

If a mother nurses her baby, she can supply the right kind of milk by eating foods high in the polyunsaturated fats, the physicians said.

If the baby is drinking formula milk, they said it should be skim milk with butter fat removed, and unsaturated fats added from corn oil, cottonseed or safflower oil.

NEW METHOD TO FREEZE BLOOD

By FRANK CAREY

Associated Press Science Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Navy-sponsored research has produced a new and promising process for preserving blood indefinitely by freezing, it was reported today.

It appears to offer the best yet towards approaching the military ideal of having a blood preparation preservable for weeks or months, yet capable of being battle ready almost immediately, developers of the technique said.

The development—still under research appraisal—was reported to the annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology by scientists of the Linde Co., Tonawanda, N.Y.

Dr. A. P. Rinfret, the research director who presented the report and amplified it at a news conference, said either whole blood or red blood cells could be reserved indefinitely by the process in which liquid nitrogen at 320 degrees below zero is employed as the freezing agent and a new type of preservative is used.

Key to the new process is the finding that albumin, a protein obtained from human blood serum, can be used to protect the red cells so that they may be frozen and thawed with little damage. Dr. Rinfret said a plastic material, polyvinyl pyro-olindine, could also be used as the preservative.

POHLMAN SERVICES HELD

Funeral services for Joseph D. Pohlman, 76, Gettysburg R. 5, who died Friday morning in the Hanover Hospital, were held Monday morning from the Fred F. Feiser Funeral Home in New Oxford with a Requiem Mass at 8:45 o'clock at Sacred Heart Catholic Church (Conewago Chapel) with the Rev. Fr. John P. Bolen officiating. Interment was made in the church cemetery. The pallbearers were Paul, Herbert, Francis and Curtis Pohlman, Robert Wildasin, Bernard Carbaugh, Bernard Horwedel and George Weaver.

KEEP AMERICA BEAUTIFUL

FEAR ALL-OUT BATTLE SOON

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer reportedly is concerned that some administration officials have become so sold on antiguerrilla warfare that the South Vietnamese army's ability to meet a conventional Communist attack may suffer.

Sources familiar with Lemnitzer's views said today the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff is not downgrading the importance of training South Viet Nam's forces to stamp out Communist guerrillas now infesting that country.

Lemnitzer, who recently returned from a survey of the situation in Viet Nam, was pictured as worried about the longer range aspects of a possible direct attack from Communist territory.

MENACE OF REDS

He was said to have in mind the 10 divisions or more of regular troops in Communist North Viet Nam and, in the background, the menace of Red China.

Lemnitzer is convinced the Communists intend to keep pressing for control of Southeast Asia, regardless of whether their current guerrilla war effort pays off.

If the U.S.-supported South Vietnamese army succeeds in cleaning up the guerrillas, Lemnitzer is understood to feel the Reds might be tempted to try a direct attack such as they mounted in Korea nearly 12 years ago.

Associates said Lemnitzer believes the South Vietnamese army should be geared to handle either type of situation—guerrilla war or conventional assault.

FACULTY GETS REPORT CARDS

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The faculty of Trinity College, more used to grading than being graded, is studying today a surprise report card presented by the student body.

Naming names and mincing no words, the 78-page document drew angry reactions from professors who flunked.

"It is inconceivable that the administration should permit publication of such a report," snorted the head of one department described as having a generally poor curriculum.

POLITE CONVERSATION

Another, the Fine Arts Department, was written off as being chiefly concerned with "education of the student for polite conversation."

In general, professors were criticized for being too easy-going. One was "not strict enough"; another "ineffectual."

The study, drawn up under the sponsorship of the college Senate, didn't limit itself to academic matters.

The typical Trinity undergraduate, it said, "does not have any concept of what education involves, nor does he give any indication of wanting to find out."

FINEST SCHOOL

Despite all, the student critics concluded that Trinity, a private men's college with an enrollment of 950, is still "one of the finest"

Endorse Plan To Furlough Convicts

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The executive committee of the Pennsylvania Prison Society has endorsed the idea of giving furloughs to prisoners to prepare them for eventual release and parole.

G. Richard Bacon, executive secretary of the society, said Saturday Pennsylvania would lead the nation in the correctional field if it accomplished all of the objectives of the society within the next few years.

The society is celebrating its 175th anniversary this year.

schools in the nation, and this report is an attempt to improve further this institution."

Dr. Albert C. Jacobs, Trinity's president, said the students don't appreciate some of the problems an administrator faces—lack of funds, for instance.

Noting the "considerable maturity of those who wrote it," Jacobs forwarded the lengthy report card, together with footnotes from outraged faculty members, to the college trustees.

By winning $61,091 on the PGA golf tour in 1961, Arnold Palmer won more money than any previous second place finisher. Gary Player led the money winners.

Why not call Ziegler Studio, ED 4-1311, for an appointment now? Dear John, Mary and Children: It was so good to have a letter from you I know how missing someone can be and I took your suggestion and visited Lane's Studio on York St. and had a portrait sitting made. I just couldn't get over how picture taking has changed. It's so easy... and pleasant. When I looked at my proofs I was a bit surprised as to how different I looked. The studio receptionist then showed me samples of composites and portraits and assured me that the few wrinkles that come with my age can be skillfully blended in retouching. I really was pleased with the final results and I'm sure you'll both say, "We certainly have an attractive Grandma." I am having a few extra copies made to send to some of my old friends, too. Well, children... Grandma Smith P.S. to you too... sending along a small print too for daddy's wallet. Rugs and Furniture 31 REUPHOLSTERING , ALL the latest fabrics. ## A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

NAIL TIPS. If there's a problem that causes the female containing more consternation than the hips, it's hands. Nails in particular.

At the moment nail enamel seems to be the concern of many lovelies, or so they write me. The questions that recur, time and again, are answered below — for the good of all:

For reasons of good taste it is true that nail enamel must match your lipstick? No, this is a matter of personal preference. Actually there is a growing fashion acceptance of the lighter look to nails. For harmony, though, unmatched lipstick and enamel must belong to the same color family. For example, deep pink lipstick and pale pink enamel. Clear enamel, of course, can be teamed with any lip shade.

Is pearlized polish appropriate for daytime wear? It has become so through popular usage.

What shade of enamel is most flattering to large hands? Medium shades. Just as hips, to revert to the No. 1 problem, appear larger when dressed in bright or light colors, so do hands.

If the nails are stubby, should you use colored enamel? Properly applied, a conservative shade elongates appearances. Simply paint the entire nail, except for a slim margin at either side.

How can you obtain a lustrous finish, when you are allergic to polishes? Investigate hypo-allergenic polish. It is nonirritating to the majority of the allergy-prone.

LOVELIER HANDS

Do you have a hand problem? Send today for LOVELIER HANDS, a booklet that covers every step in a quest for hand beauty. It tells how to keep the skin and nails groomed; how to overcome weak nails, polish chips, discolored knuckles, prominent veins, wrinkles; how to use the hands with poised grace. FREE ON BAIL

Joseph Butler, 25, 229 W. High St., arrested Saturday morning by borough police on a charge of carrying a revolver without a permit, pleaded guilty later Saturday before Justice of the Robert P. Snyder and was recommitted to jail. Monday he posted $500 bail and was freed for sentence by the Adams County court in May.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP) — If you and your neighbor were selling eggs and you raised your prices, you wouldn't stay in business long unless you cut your prices back to his level.

That seems simple enough. It would be in keeping with the ancient spirit—often observed more in talk than in practice—of free, competitive enterprise.

But that isn't the way the steel industry plays it.

This week when the U.S. Steel Corp. boosted prices its competitors might have cleaned up by not raising prices, too. Instead, most of them followed U.S. Steel like sheep. Within three days eight companies had put in raises.

This was asking for a fight with President Kennedy who, because of the special circumstances surrounding this situation, couldn't take it lying down. And he didn't.

PLAN U.S. PROBE

His brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, is going after the steel industry. A federal grand jury will now investigate this round of price increases.

Kennedy said his department is checking into two questions:

1. Did the steel companies get together to raise prices. If they did, he said, it would be a violation of law.

2. Should the U.S. Steel Corp. be broken up because it's too big. Kennedy said it should if it's so big it controls industry prices.

Big Steel walked into this fight with its eyes open. It well knows the Kennedy administration has been taking action against price-fixing and monopoly in many directions.

BIG SCANDAL

Only last year one of the biggest scandals in American industrial history rolled to a sordid end.

After government prosecution for price-fixing and bid-rigging 29 giant electric equipment companies were fined, seven of their executives were jailed, and 45 others were fined. This was initiated during the Eisenhower administration.

The President, who wanted the industry and the Steelworkers' Union to sign a noninflationary contract, thought that's what had been done. So did the rest of the country because there was no hint or suggestion from the steel industry it had a price increase in mind.

But, at least U.S. Steel must have been preparing for it. The union agreed to a contract which provided some benefits but no pay raise. Within five days U.S. Steel boosted prices. By Thursday night, so had seven other companies.

But not all did.

2 HAVEN'T RAISED

This explains why the President attacked the steel industry with so much anger Wednesday.

Thursday Roger Blough, chairman of the board of U.S. Steel, was reminded by reporters that two large steel companies have not yet raised prices.

He was asked how long his company could stick to its price increase if these two kept their price where it was. He said: "It would certainly affect us. And I don't know how long we can maintain our position."

Which raises a question the fed-

Orrtanna

MRS. LUTHER WETZEL

ORRTANNA — The following were received into membership at the Mt. Carmel EUB Church at the Palm Sunday morning worship service by the pastor, Rev. A. K. Gotwalt: The Misses Mary Alice and Margaret Josephine Tich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rich; Kenneth Andrew Baumgardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Baumgardner, and Mrs. Wendell Naugle, the latter by letter of transfer from Zion Lutheran, Arendtsville. Flowers were placed in the church by the Adult Bible Class of the Sunday School in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Naugle for their 65th wedding anniversary. A vocal solo, "The Palms," was presented by Miss Carol Wetzel, accompanied by Mrs. Clyde Metz at the piano.

Mrs. Dora Cargas has returned to her home in Charleston, S.C., after a week's stay with her mother, Mrs. Bessie Wolford, being called here due to the death of her father, Clement H. Wolford.

Mrs. Clark E. Spence is reported to be convalescing satisfactorily at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyd, following her discharge from the Warner Hospital where she had been a patient following surgery on April 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wetzel returned to Wernersville after a stay with Herbert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wetzel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keller and children, Max, Carmen and Cynthia Beth, York, visited Sunday with Mrs. Keller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Fisel.

Begins Job As Superintendent

MEDIA, Pa. (AP)—Ambrose H. Smedley of Media took over today as new maintenance superintendent for the State Highways Department in Delaware County.

Smedley was named to the $6,090-a-year post Monday night, filling a long-standing vacancy. His appointment marked the end of a five-year absence from department work.

Smedley left the department in 1957 while serving as an assistant highways superintendent, to take a job as maintenance superintendent for the county government.

Before that, he had been with highways for 10 years. He also operated a real estate business and for many years served as a maintenance supervisor for the Sun Shipbuilding Co., Chester.

eral grand jury will probably want an answer to:

If all the other steel companies had refused to go along with U.S. Steel in raising prices, how long, in view of what Blough said, would the giant of the industry dared to have kept its new price?

To Investigate Loan Companies

HARRISBURG (AP)—A special Senate committee will open hearings in Philadelphia May 9, kicking off a full-scale investigation into Pennsylvania's commercial credit companies.

Committee Chairman Benjamin R. Donolow, a Democratic state senator from Philadelphia, said Monday the probe would include credit organizations that supply consumer discounts, home improvements, department store financing, small loans and finance.

Further sessions will be scheduled later. Among the first witnesses invited to appear is Atty. Gen. David Stahl, a committee spokesman disclosed.

One of the problems still facing the investigating body, however, is that the various forms of credit organizations are not regulated.

The Senate group was named by the 1962 session as an outgrowth of an investigation of three finance institutions in St. Marys which showed shortages of $3.5 million.
